1.2. To bring with you

Our Student Organizing Team has planned some activities in addition to the competition for which you should bring the following with you:

- Würth Competition Night:
  The motto for this evening will be “wear your country/university”. Therefore you should wear something that represents your country or your university (e.g. university hoodie, jersey of a football team or traditional clothes).

2. BEFORE YOU ARRIVE

2.1. Passport & Visa Requirements

A valid passport is required to enter Germany by land, sea or air. EU citizens do not need a visa to enter.
Depending on your country or nationality, a visa may be necessary.

Visit https://www.auswaertiges-amt.de/en/einreiseundaufenthalt/-/231148 for current information.

2.2. Controlled Substances

Items such as firearms and narcotics are strictly controlled in Germany and should not be imported. Any attempt to do so may constitute a criminal offense: https://www.bfarm.de/EN/FederalOpiumAgency/NarcoticDrugs/_node.html

2.3. Health Care & Insurance

Germany has excellent medical care and facilities. There is a large network of pharmacies in towns and cities and, although opening hours are generally similar to other shops, an emergency pharmacy is always available at night, on Sundays, and during bank holidays.

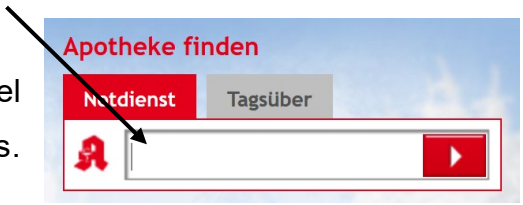
On https://www.aponet.de you can enter your postcode (74523) and it will show you the emergency pharmacies.



Participants are strongly advised to obtain travel health insurance to cover unexpected medical costs. This applies to both EU and Non-EU citizens.

EU nationals

If you require medical treatment while in Germany, presenting your European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) will simplify payment and reimbursement. With your EHIC you can access health care services and claim reimbursement for the costs you incur on the same terms as German nationals. If the treatment you require would be free for residents, you will not have to pay.

Non-EU nationals

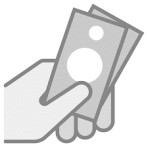
Check to see if your health insurance company provides overseas coverage; if not, we strongly encourage you to purchase travel medical insurance. If traveling with prescription medication, check with the German government to ensure the medication is legal in Germany. Due to Germany's strict customs regulations you are not permitted to receive prescription medication by mail without special permission. Always carry your prescription medication in its original packaging along with your doctor's prescription.

Medical treatment and hospital stays are expensive, and on-the-spot cash payment is often expected. Be sure to choose travel insurance that includes coverage for medical evacuation and hospital stays.

2.4. Currency & Payment

Cash is king in Germany!

You can pay with cash everywhere in Germany. In fact, many smaller shops or cafés won't accept anything else.



German euro banknotes come in denominations of EUR 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200, and 500. When paying in small change, you will encounter 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cent coins, as well as 1 and 2 € coins.

Automated banking machines (i.e., ATMs) are ubiquitous and conveniently located. Nearly every German bank branch has a 24/7 ATM. The withdrawal fee charged by the ATM provider is typically a fixed amount, ranging from 4 € to 6 €.

Foreign currency can be exchanged at German banks or specialty outlets. We recommend exchanging money in your home country, as fees are often lower than in Germany.

German ATMs feature small signs or stickers indicating the bank and credit card networks with whom they are affiliated. These normally include MasterCard and Visa. When entering shops or restaurants, check the doors — they also often display stickers showing which cards are accepted.

2.5. Electronics & Electrical Appliances

In Germany, sockets of type F (or more rarely also type C) are used. The mains voltage is 230 V at a frequency of 50 Hz. Be sure to pack appropriate plug and voltage adaptors. Otherwise you can buy them usually at the airport.

2.6. Telephones & Mobile Phones

In Germany, both local numbers and mobile phone numbers have a maximum length of 15 digits, including the German country code (49). To call Germany from abroad, dial +49 before the local number.

In Germany, landline numbers have a prefix that corresponds to the city or region. Schwäbisch Hall uses area code +49 791 and Künzelsau area code +49 7940.

Since 2017, users throughout the EU have been able to use mobile phones, send SMS messages, and use Internet data without incurring additional charges. International roaming charges for non-EU citizens are generally extremely expensive unless you have a prepaid package.

Aldi supermarkets sell inexpensive SIM cards (for approx. 15 €) that are often a good option for individuals with unlocked phones.

2.7. Alcohol Purchase & Consumption

In Germany, regulations for alcohol consumption depend on the percentage of alcohol in the product. Beverages with an alcohol content below 15% by volume may be consumed and purchased by individuals aged 16 years and older. These include beer, wine and sparkling wine.

Spirits i.e., high-proof beverages with alcohol content 15% or higher, may only be purchased and consumed in public by individuals 18 and older. This age restriction also applies to mixed drinks containing spirits, irrespective of the alcohol content of the mixed drink.

The risk of impairment increases with even small amounts of alcohol, so it is important not to consume alcohol when driving, cycling, or walking near traffic. The upper limit for blood alcohol content when driving in Germany is 0.05% and, up to the age of 21 and/or during the probationary licensing period, it is illegal to drive with any measurable alcohol in the blood. There is also a blood alcohol limit of 0.16% for cycling. Violations are punished with fines and other penalties. Penalties apply in the event of an accident that occurs under the influence of alcohol, even when blood alcohol content is under the legal limit. The distribution and consumption of alcoholic beverages and food in public is linked to legal age limits: In restaurants, shops, public beverage stands or other public places, identity cards will be checked. In case of doubt, retailers and event organizers will check the age of customers.

2.8. Recreational Cannabis Purchase & Consumption

In Germany the cultivation, administration, trade, purchase, production, import and possession of cannabis is punishable by law. Exceptions are made for medically-prescribed cannabis products that are necessary for the treatment of disease. In this case the prescription must be carried.

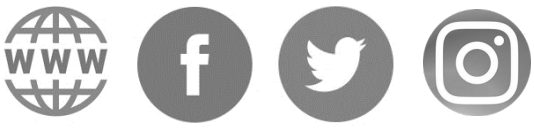
2.9. Weather

The average temperature in March in Schwäbisch Hall is 5.1°C (41°F). Rain is common and snow is a possibility, so it is prudent to bring both wet-weather (raincoat and umbrella) and winter clothing (warm jacket, scarf, gloves etc.). Please check the forecast and dress accordingly.

2.10. Website & Social Media

We want to connect with you prior to and during the competition!

www: nibscasecompetition.org/
Instagram: nibscase
facebook: facebook.com/NIBScase
twitter.com: @nibscase



During competition week, scores and standings will be made available on the NIBS website and may in some cases be communicated via social media. In addition to giving you ready access to key information, you will be able to keep colleagues, friends, and family around the world updated on all the excitement here in Künzelsau/Schwäbisch Hall.

3. ARRIVING IN SCHWÄBISCH-HALL

3.1. Arriving by Air

If you plan to travel by air, there are several airport options:
Stuttgart (Distance to Schwäbisch Hall: 80 km),
Frankfurt am Main (Distance: 190 km) or Munich (Distance: 200 km).
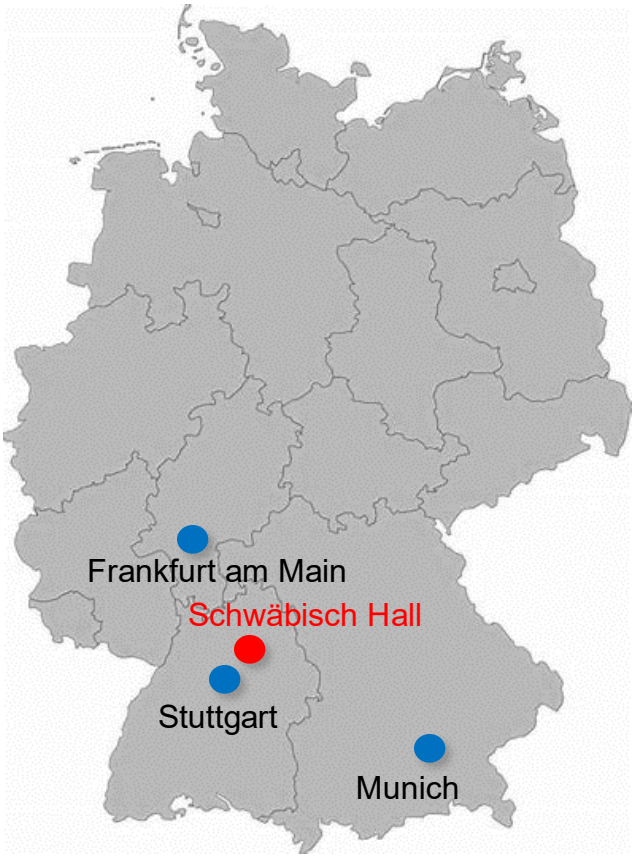
Please note that you will need to clear customs and border controls and collect your luggage at your first port of entry into the European Schengen zone. Subsequent flights within the Schengen zone are treated as domestic travel.



3.2. Train, Kiwi taxi or rental car from Airport to Hotel

After you arrive in Germany, we recommend the train, a KiwiTaxi or a rental car for travel between the airport and the qubixx hotel in Schwäbisch Hall:

- Travel by train:

  Your final destination is “Schwäbisch Hall-Hessental” station. The connections depend of course on which airport you are going to arrive. For prices and connections, please visit https://www.bahn.com/en/view/index.shtml. Tickets can be purchased online or at the train station ticket counter.

  After you arrive at the main “Schwäbisch Hall-Hessental” station, the qubixx hotel is a short taxi ride. In addition to that we organize a student shuttle service, please just let us know when you plan to arrive.

- Travel by KiwiTaxi:

KiwiTaxi

KiwiTaxi is a reliable and affordable door-to-door airport transfer service. Bookings are made online; simply enter your flight number, arrival time, and the address of your destination (qubixx hotel, Schwäbisch Hall). When you arrive at the airport, a driver will pick you up and bring you directly to your hotel.

Payment is normally made to the driver in cash, but it may also be possible to pay online beforehand. KiwiTaxi sometimes partners with another provider called “Mozio”.

	Minibus 7pax (4-7 persons)	Economy (1-4 persons)	Travel Time to Schwäbisch Hall
Stuttgart	Price: 180€	Price: 168€	1:30h
Frankfurt am Main	Price: 300€	Price: 252€	2:30h
Munich	Price: 420€	Price: 392€	3:00h

- Renting a car:

  Renting a car provides maximum flexibility. Please note that most rental vehicles in Europe come with manual transmissions. There are many options for reserving vehicles online, including all of the usual travel booking sites. When you arrive at the airport, you will pick up your selected vehicle from the information desk of your chosen brand (e.g. Europcar). During your week at the qubixx hotel, you will have access to the underground car park for 3 € per day.

  It is also possible to rent a car at the airports and return in Schwäbisch Hall (e.g. Europcar). So you would only need to pay for the arrival day and you could rent another one for your departure day.

3.3. Arriving by Car

For teams travelling by personal vehicle, an underground car park with over 300 parking spaces is available directly underneath the hotel for 3 € per day. There are also parking spaces available in front of the hotel for the same price.

The German autobahn system is renowned for having no universal speed limit. However, it is important to note that slightly more than half of motorways do have posted speed limits and about 10% are equipped with control systems that can impose variable speed limits. Fines for exceeding these limits are high.

5. ABOUT SCHWÄBISCH HALL

During the competition, participants will stay in the beautiful city of Schwäbisch Hall-commonly known as Hall, about 25 km from Künzelsau. The city was founded centuries ago, fueled by wealth created from salt extraction.

Today, Schwäbisch Hall is an emerging cultural city with a modern yet medieval flair. The old town has one of the most beautiful marketplaces in Germany, and invites you to linger. Architectural styles of epochs ranging from the Romanesque-Gothic Saint Michael's church to the Baroque town hall merge into an impressive sight. Cultural highlights include open-air plays and the Würth Hall of Art.

Nightlife is impressive for a city of just over 40,000 citizens. There are restaurants and bars to visit to suit all preferences.

6. ABOUT REINHOLD WÜRTH UNIVERSITY

Campus Künzelsau, also known as Reinhold Würth University, is named after its main benefactor, Reinhold Würth, one of the most successful entrepreneurs in Germany. The Reinhold Würth Foundation provides support for the operation and growth of the Campus Künzelsau, along with various research and training projects.

The campus is located alongside the river Kocher; the idyllic landscape provides an ideal learning atmosphere.

More than 1,500 young people study in the modern facilities of Reinhold Würth University in various bachelor and masters programs in business and engineering. The university is distinguished by its small class sizes, individual supervision by the professors, and deep insights into practice.

Reinhold Würth University, Campus Künzelsau is still growing: A campus expansion with new facilities for research, teaching, student accommodation and administration is currently under development. We look forward to hosting NIBS Case Competition participants in our brand-new buildings!
